FCFS is a nonprofit 501(c)3 safe haven for around 150 animals. Our mission is two-fold: we provide a lifetime home for rescued farmed animals, and we invite the public to come and learn about the animals' stories and how to avoid contributing to the animal agriculture industry.

Why take a virtual field trip to FCFS?

Your class will learn new and interesting information about animals, their habits and personalities, and connect with the rescue stories of the individual residents. This trip is great for students learning about animals, science, creative writing, or other similar subjects. We can tailor tours to specific subjects to help you create classroom projects!

What does a field trip include?

20 minute virtual tour where students will meet animals and learn about their stories.

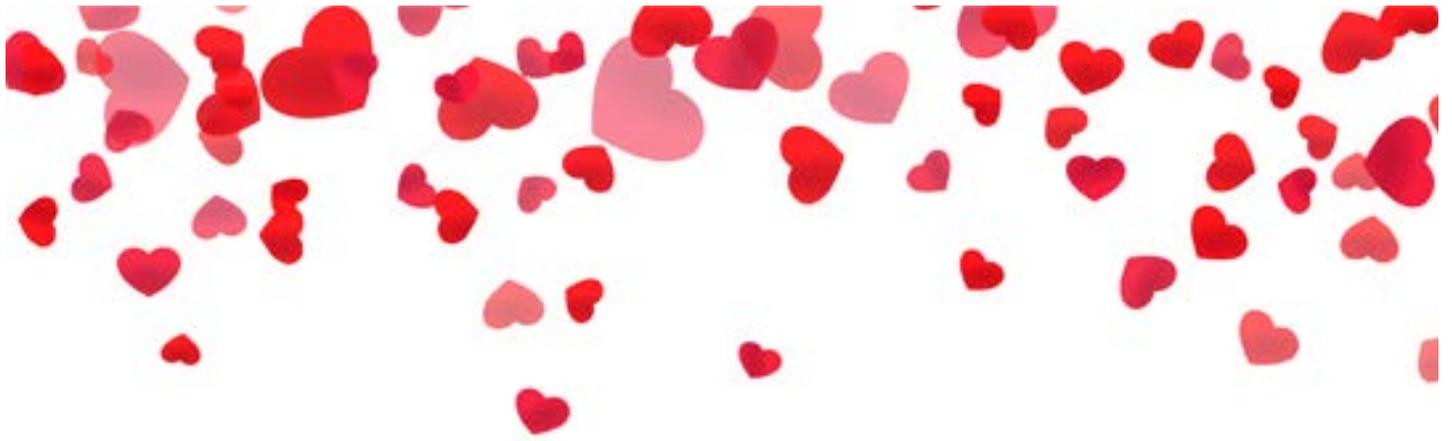

How Can My Group Participate?

E-mail us at info@fcfsanctuary.org

We will schedule you for a free 20-minute virtual tour on whichever video conferencing platform you prefer.

Hi class,

Full Circle Farm Sanctuary is a safe home for around 150 animals. All the animals who live here were rescued - some from places they weren't being taken care of, some where they were being hurt, and some who were lost and had no one to take care of them. They live safe at the sanctuary and will stay there for the rest of their lives!

The animal residents would love to be your valentines this year. Here are a few of the residents, and a little bit about them!

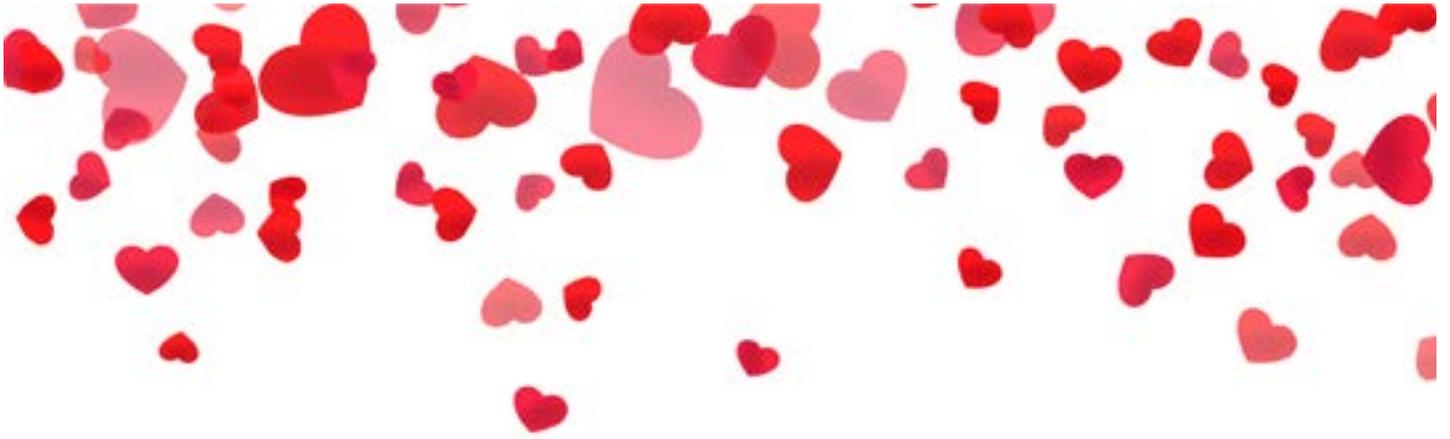

How Can I Help the Animals?

Your class can donate produce or spare change to the sanctuary! The animals love getting fresh fruits and vegetables like apples and lettuce, and change helps pay for their care!

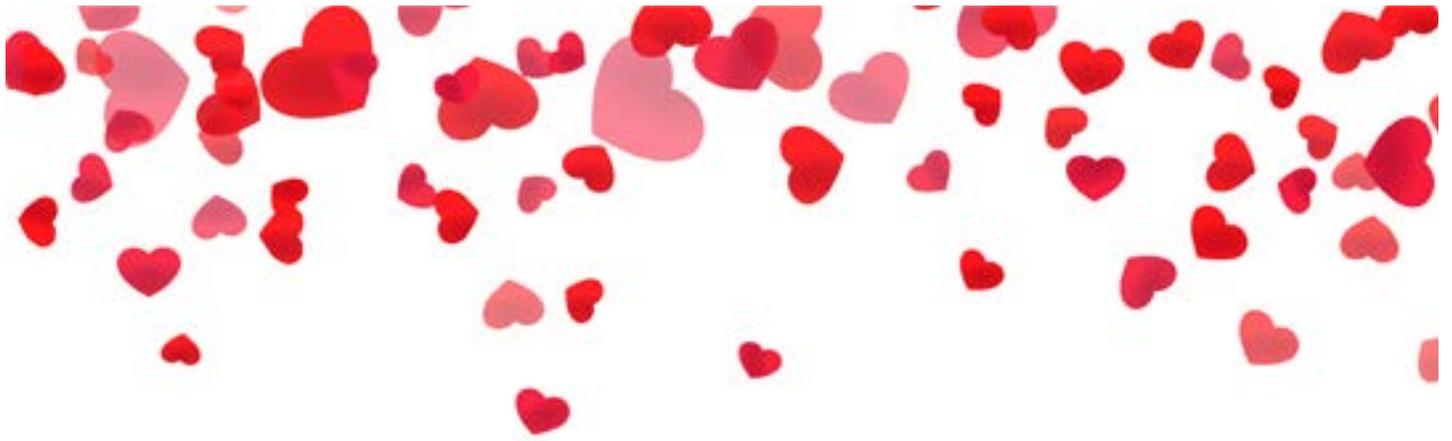

Lotus

Lotus was in a scary situation - she was living at a place where dogs practiced hunting by chasing her. Lotus was tired and afraid, and her ear was hurt. A man who was neighbors with her became her friend and decided to get her to safety. Lotus is now a big girl with many other pig friends at Full Circle. She loves to decorate her house with plants and paint the outside with mud. She would love to be your Valentine this year!

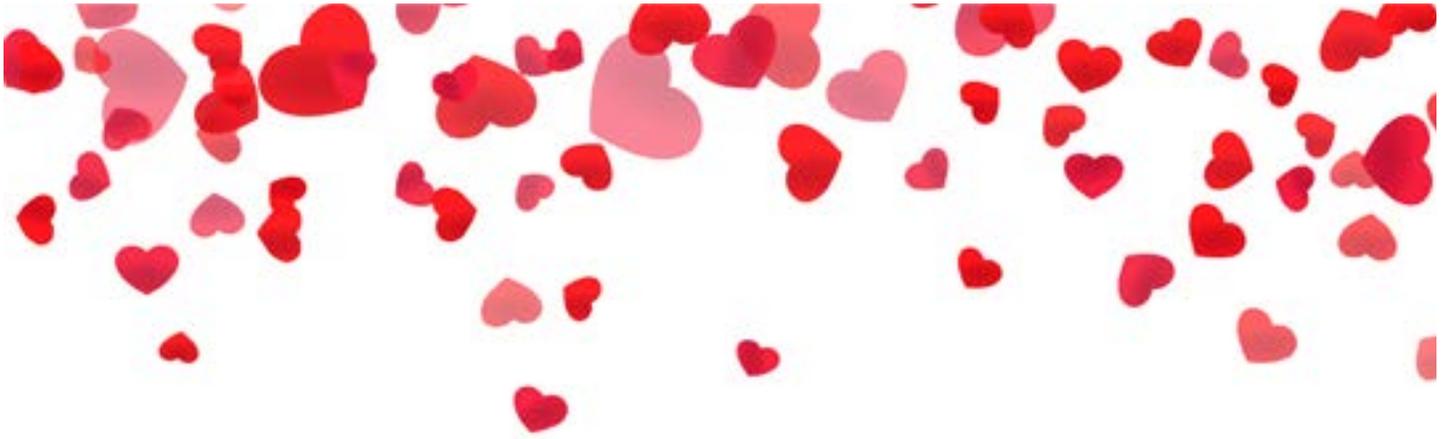

Rapunzel

Rapunzel was just a small cow when she was rescued from a place where no one was taking care of her. She and her sisters were living in a very dirty barn and got sick. When a team rescued Rapunzel and her 3 sisters, she went to a big sanctuary in New York to get better. When she was finally healthy, they all moved to Georgia to live at Full Circle! Rapunzel is a gentle cow who will let people sit with her in the mornings and scratch her neck. She is very take charge and enjoys walking through the woods with her herd. She would love to be your valentine this year!

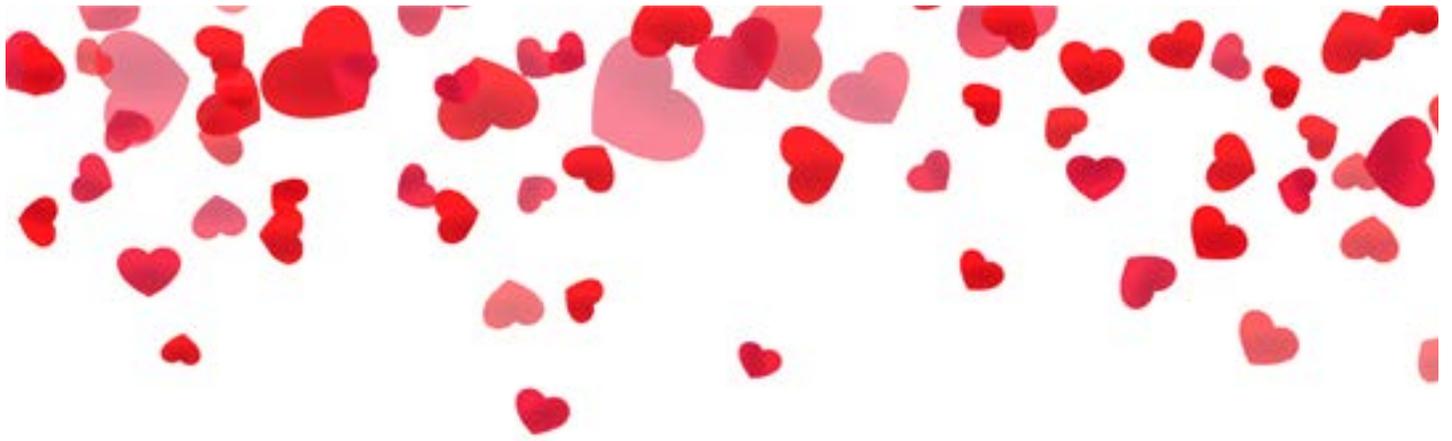

Dougie

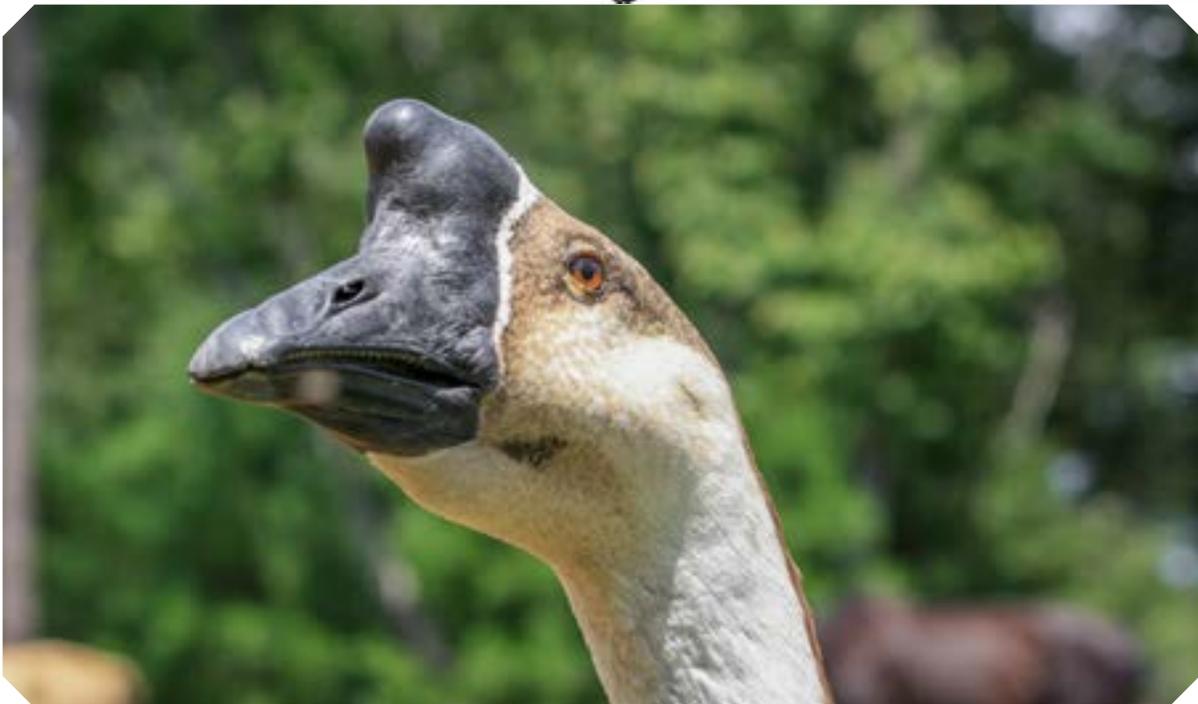

Dougie is a Boer goat who was born blind. He was placed at an animal auction and didn't know where he would end up. A mother and daughter saw him and wanted to make sure he was safe, so they took him home. However, they soon realized they didn't know how they would take care of him once he grew up! Goats need space, grass, and other goat friends! Dougie now lives at the sanctuary with three other goat friends and loves sticking his head straight up in the air so he can hear staff coming down the road with his meals. He would love to be your valentine this year!

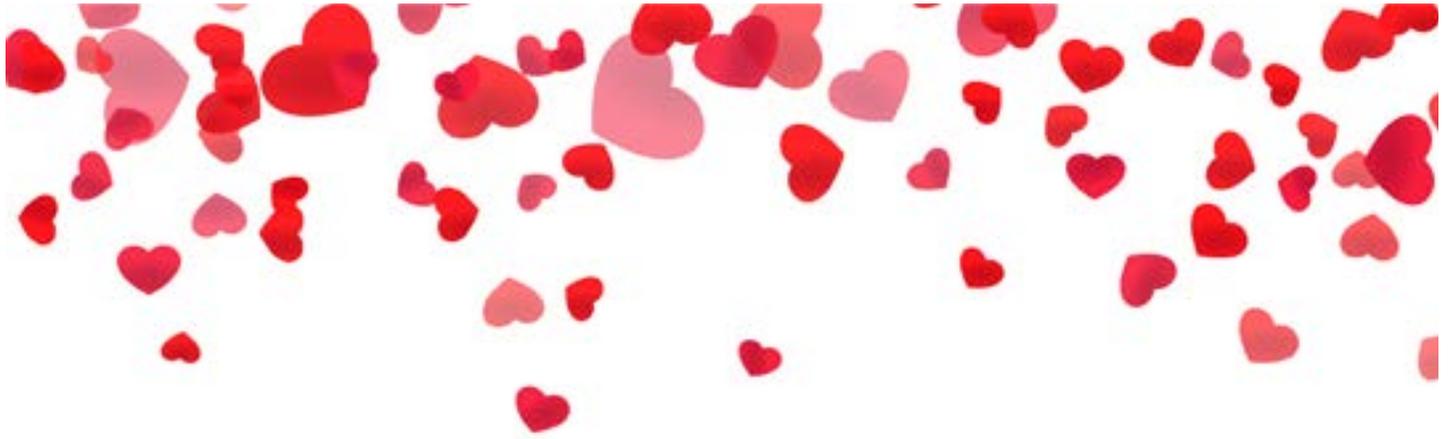

Jordan

Jordan was hatched and raised by someone when he was a little gosling. Jordan thought this person was his parent, but the person didn't want him anymore, and left him at a lake. Jordan was very sad and honked and yelled at anyone who came to the lake. A concerned lady realized Jordan had been abandoned and knew he needed a safe place to live. Jordan came to Full Circle and immediately made friends with all of the staff. Jordan is very talkative and will have long conversations with you if you sit with him. He would love to be your Valentine this year!

Hazel

Hazel was living in a dirty and scary situation and the person who had her was going to sell her to people who would harm her. Instead, a lot of kind people got together to get her and her two friends away from harm! She is a little spotted pig and is extremely friendly. She loves cuddling in between her two friends River and Magnolia. She still has a little cough but is starting to feel better and better at Full Circle. She would love to be your Valentine this year!

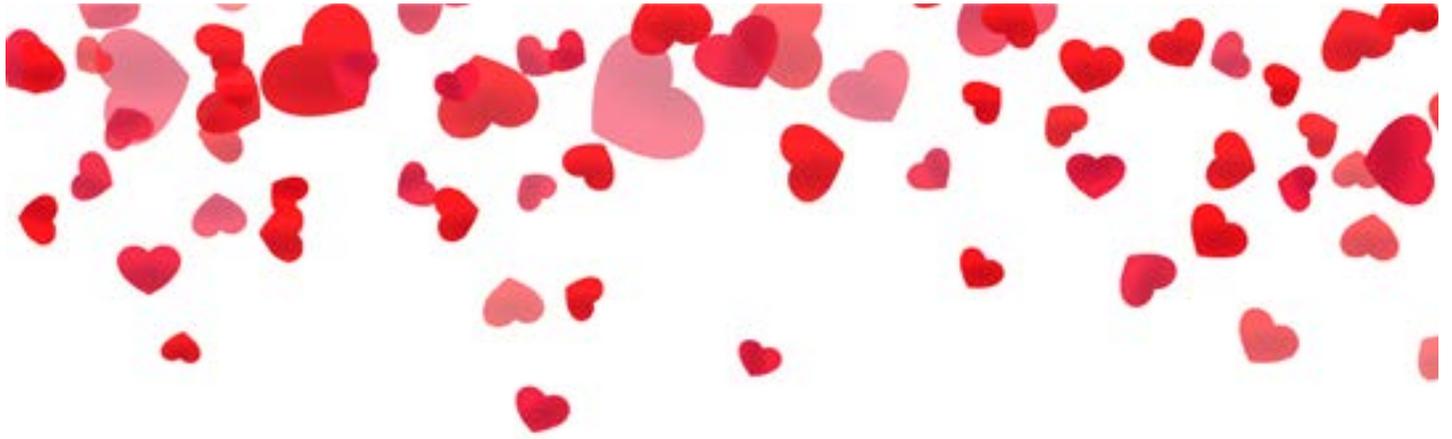

Jade

Jade was a little lamb when a family bought him. They wanted him to be a surprise gift for their child! However, lambs grow up to be big sheep, and they realized Jade was going to be a handful. He needed space, and other sheep friends! Jade came to the sanctuary and now he has everything he needs. He lives with four other sheep and loves to give hugs to anyone who comes to visit him. He would love to be your Valentine this year!

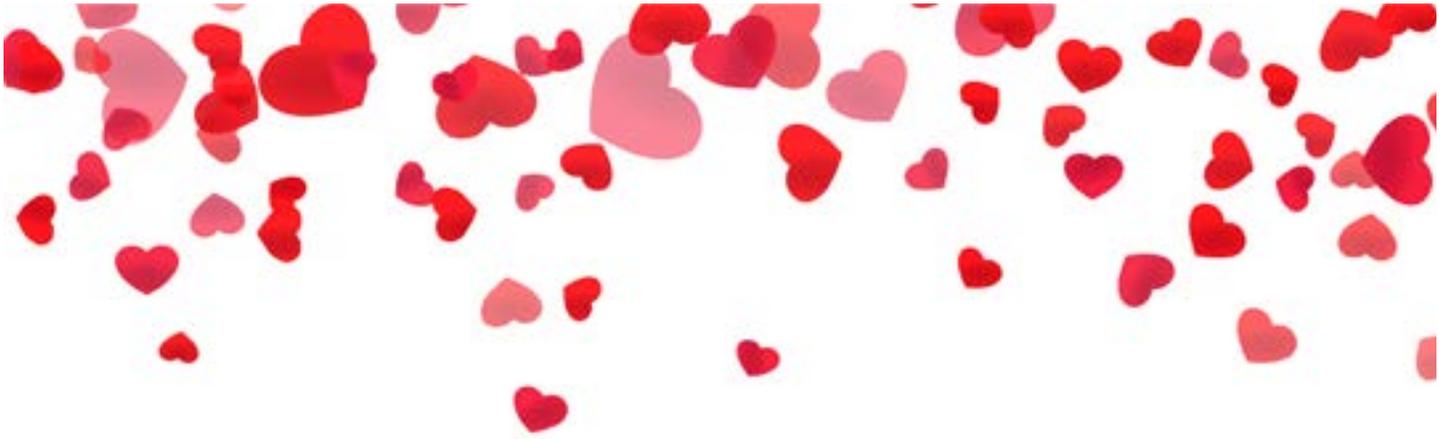

Brando

Brando jumped off a truck to safety when he was just a small piglet. He broke a leg during his fall. He went to the vet to get his broken leg fixed, and they called the sanctuary. He is now all grown up, and lives with 9 other pig friends. Brando is a special pig - he has one blue eye and one brown eye! He would love to be your Valentine this year.

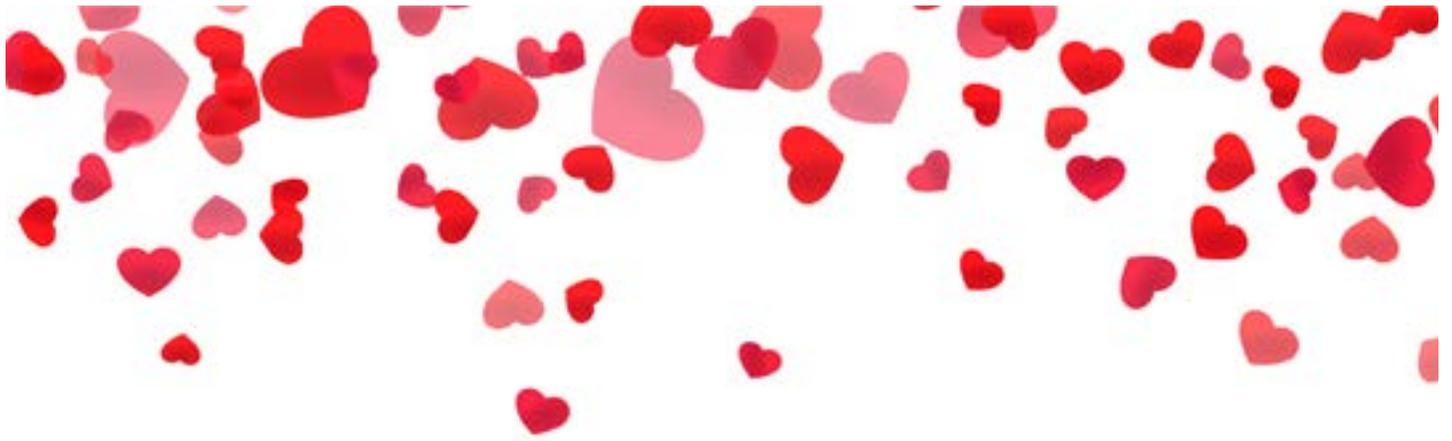

Gloria

Gloria was just a small cow when she was rescued from a place where no one was taking care of her. She was living in very dirty conditions and got sick. When a team rescued Gloria, she went to a big sanctuary in New York to get better, and when she was finally feeling healthy, she and her 3 sisters moved to Georgia to live at Full Circle! Gloria is curious about the world but likes to stay close to her herd, which is her family. She is playful and energetic. She would love to be your Valentine this year!

Nestor

Nestor was born blind - the people who had him felt bad for him but didn't want to take care of him anymore. He was listed for rescue on a website when he was still a tiny baby goat. Now, Nestor is a big guy. Even though he is blind, he easily gets around his pasture, and will even play and chase guests. His favorite thing to do is to fight with the door on his house. He'd love to be your Valentine this year!
